

The beatitudes of Jesus Christ

A large crowd of people in a valley, seen from behind a person in a dark robe. The scene is set in a lush, green valley with mountains in the background. The crowd is dense and extends far into the distance. Many people are holding small, round objects, possibly bread or fruit, on their heads. The lighting is warm, suggesting late afternoon or early morning. The person in the foreground is wearing a dark, heavy robe and has their back to the camera, looking out over the crowd.

The Beatitudes are eight blessings narrated by Jesus Christ to his disciples in the 'sermon on the Mount' as recorded in the Gospel of Matthew (Holy Bible)

Beatitude means "supreme blessedness" (from Latin 'beatus' meaning blessed)

“Blessed are the poor in spirit,
for theirs is the kingdom of heaven”

The image is a vertical composition of two photographs. The top photograph shows a woman with dark, curly hair, her face buried in her hands, suggesting grief or despair. The bottom photograph shows the same woman, now smiling broadly with her arms raised in a gesture of joy or triumph, set against a bright, sunlit outdoor background. A semi-transparent grey rectangular box is centered over the image, containing white text.

“Blessed are those who mourn,
for they will be comforted”

“Blessed are the meek,
for they will inherit the earth”

“Blessed are those who hunger & thirst for righteousness,

for they will be filled”

“Blessed are the merciful,
for they will be shown mercy”

“Blessed are the pure in heart,
for they will see God”

“Blessed are the peacemakers,
for they will be called children of God”

“Blessed are those who’re persecuted because of righteousness,
for theirs is the kingdom of heaven”
